Accounting and Finance

BCom (Honours) dissertation titles

2006

Salim Al-Mudallal, Agency costs and audit quality, supervised by Associate Professor David Hay

Mingyan Cao, Financial restatements phenomena: A review of the contemporary literature, supervised by Professor Steven Cahan

Anna Chan, The balance of power and value preservation in corporate insolvency cases: A comparison between Chapter 11 and Voluntary Administration, supervised by Professor Jerry Bowman

Li Chen, An application of data envelopment analysis to the New Zealand dairy industry, supervised by Associate Professor Paul Rouse

Weiwei Chen, Determinants of executive stock option use in New Zealand, supervised by Associate Professor Alastair Marsden

Christine Dong, A comparison of cost of equity estimates using domestic and international CAPMs: New Zealand evidence, supervised by Professor Jerry Bowman and Associate Professor Alastair Marsden

Kerry Greer, Foreign domiciled companies to be included in ASX indices: An examination of the market effects for New Zealand dual-listed stocks, supervised by Associate Professor Alastair Marsden

Jennifer Ho, The impact of 'NZ IAS-12: Income Taxes' on financial reporting and debt contracting, supervised by Dr Norman Wong and Professor Jiilnaught Wong

John Javier, The potential impact of NZ IAS 39 on the hedging strategy of New Zealand firms, supervised by Dr Norman Wong and Professor David Emanuel

Siu Ka Jiang, The relationship between earnings management and forecast management: A relative costs argument, supervised by Professor Janice How

Erica Kwon, Client failure risk and audit fees: Evidence from Australian initial public offerings, supervised by Professor Janice How and Dr Peter Verhoeven

Jennifer Lau, An application of projection pursuit in value relevance research, supervised by Dr Norman Wong and Professor Alan Lee (Department of Statistics)

Xin Liang, Static dividends and dynamic repurchases: The changing characteristics of dividends and repurchases, supervised by Professor Jerry Bowman

Chenming Ling, Size matters: A genetic programming approach to technical trading, supervised by Dr Peter Verhoeven
Accounting and Finance

BCom (Honours) dissertation titles

Andrea Lynch, Audit quality and client portfolio management: An examination of the New Zealand finance industry, supervised by Associate Professor David Hay

Mark Madigan, Non-audit services and auditor independence: Are New Zealand investors concerned?, supervised by Dr Norman Wong and Professor David Emanuel

Sharlene Narayan, The use of process controls during new product development: Insight into why management control systems can help and hinder new product development, supervised by Mr. Chris Akroyd

Minh Nguyen, Accrual quality and post earnings announcement drift, supervised by Mr. Cameron Truong and Professor Steven Cahan

Buffy Pereira, MCS can improve performance. But can it limit opportunism?, supervised by Dr Ralph Kober and Mr. Chris Akroyd

Supun Ranasinghe, The effectiveness of the equal opportunity rule in the Australian market for corporate control, supervised by Professor Janice How

Samuel Rapson, The impact of superannuation programmes on stock exchanges, supervised by Dr Norman Wong and Professor David Emanuel

David Sharman, The association between non-audit fees and earnings conservatism in New Zealand: Evidence on the ‘non-audit services question’, supervised by Professor Steven Cahan

Shaoyong She, Do unexpected fees impair auditor independence?: New Zealand evidence, supervised by Professor David Emanuel

Boqun Tang, The relation between RandD and industry skewness, supervised by Dr Shlomi Zilca

Chieu Thu, Currency value: A determinant of foreign exchange hedging?, supervised by Associate Professor Alastair Marsden

Yewen Wang, Intra-day market equilibrium and arbitrage opportunities in foreign exchange markets, supervised by Associate Professor Alastair Marsden

Jonathan Wilde, The use of Companies Act mechanisms to effect change of control transactions, supervised by Professor Jerry Bowman

Ling Wu, Ownership structure and dividend policy: Evidence from Hong Kong firms, supervised by Professor Janice How Rita Yip, The role of institutional investors and how they are perceived by the market, supervised by Dr Norman Wong

Sandra Young, Audit quality and the accuracy of analyst forecasts, supervised by Professor Steven Cahan

Paul Yu, Decoding takeover waves: Deciphering the stock market driven acquisitions theory, supervised by Professor David Emanuel

Beilei Zhang, The provision of non-audit services and earnings conservatism: Do New Zealand auditors compromise their independence, supervised by Professor David Emanuel